SUMMARY

As a passionate Web Developer, I have mastered modern JavaScript frameworks with a focus on React, including core concepts such as Redux, React Hooks, and Redux-Saga. My expertise encompasses key React principles and techniques. I specialize in writing well-designed, testable, and efficient code, adhering to best practices in React development. My responsibilities include creating responsive and dynamic user interfaces with React, integrating data from various back-end services and APIs, and collaborating closely with stakeholders to gather and refine technical requirements.
